It seemed the world was divided into good and bad people. The good ones slept better... while the bad ones seemed to enjoy the waking hours much more.

– Woody Allen

Where so many hours have been spent in convincing myself that I am right, is there not some reason to fear I may be wrong?

– Jane Austen

The best way to keep children home is to make the home atmosphere pleasant – and let the air out of the tires.

– Dorothy Parker

I have found the best way to give advice to your children is to find out what they want and then advise them to do it.

– Harry S. Truman

Too many of us look upon Americans as dollar chasers. This is a cruel libel, even if it is reiterated thoughtlessly by the Americans themselves.

– Albert Einstein

An American has no sense of privacy. He does not know what it means. There is no such thing in the country.

– George Bernard Shaw

Ever since Hank took up a hobby it takes him twice as long to finish his meter route, but whod'a thought read day could be so entertaining!

To love and be loved is to feel the sun from both sides.

– David Viscott

If it's true that our species is alone in the universe, then I'd have to say that the universe aimed rather low and settled for very little.

– George Carlin

Life is either a daring adventure or nothing. Security does not exist in nature, nor do the children of men as a whole experience it. Avoiding danger is no safer in the long run than exposure.

– Helen Keller

You gain strength, courage and confidence by every experience in which you really stop to look fear in the face. You are able to say to yourself, 'I have lived through this horror. I can take the next thing that comes along.' You must do the thing you think you cannot do.

– Eleanor Roosevelt

Don't bother just to be better than your contemporaries or predecessors. Try to be better than yourself.

– William Faulkner

What's right about America is that although we have a mess of problems, we have great capacity – intellect and resources – to do some thing about them.

– Henry Ford, II

Those who think it permissible to tell white lies soon grow colorblind.

– Austin O'Malley

Political language – and with variations this is true of all political parties, from Conservatives to Anarchists – is designed to make lies sound truthful and murder respectable, and to give an appearance of solidity to pure wind.

– George Orwell

For man, autumn is a time of harvest, of gathering together. For nature, it is a time of sowing, of scattering abroad.

– Edwin Teale

By the time a man realizes that maybe his father was right, he usually has a son who thinks he's wrong.

– Charles Wadsworth
