

FUN & PHILOSOPHY

Ignorance – that is to say, fear of the unknown – is the source of most invidious prejudice.

– Justice John Paul Stevens

“Good people do not need laws to tell them to act responsibly, while bad people will find a way around the laws.”

– Plato (427-347 B.C.)

“Never interrupt your enemy when he is making a mistake.”

– Napoleon Bonaparte (1769-1821)

“The difference between ‘involvement’ and ‘commitment’ is like an eggs-and-ham breakfast: the chicken was ‘involved’ - the pig was ‘committed’.”

– unknown

“If you are going through hell, keep going.”

– Sir Winston Churchill (1874-1965)

“Blessed is the man, who having nothing to say, abstains from giving wordy evidence of the fact.”

– George Eliot (1819-1880)

“We didn’t lose the game; we just ran out of time.”

– Vince Lombardi

“Be nice to people on your way up because you meet them on your way down.”

– Jimmy Durante

“The true measure of a man is how he treats someone who can do him absolutely no good.”

– Samuel Johnson (1709-1784)

“I’ve learned that people will forget what you said, people will forget what you did, but people will never forget how you made them feel.”

– Maya Angelou (1928-)

“A man can’t be too careful in the choice of his enemies.”

– Oscar Wilde (1854-1900)

“Happiness is good health and a bad memory.”

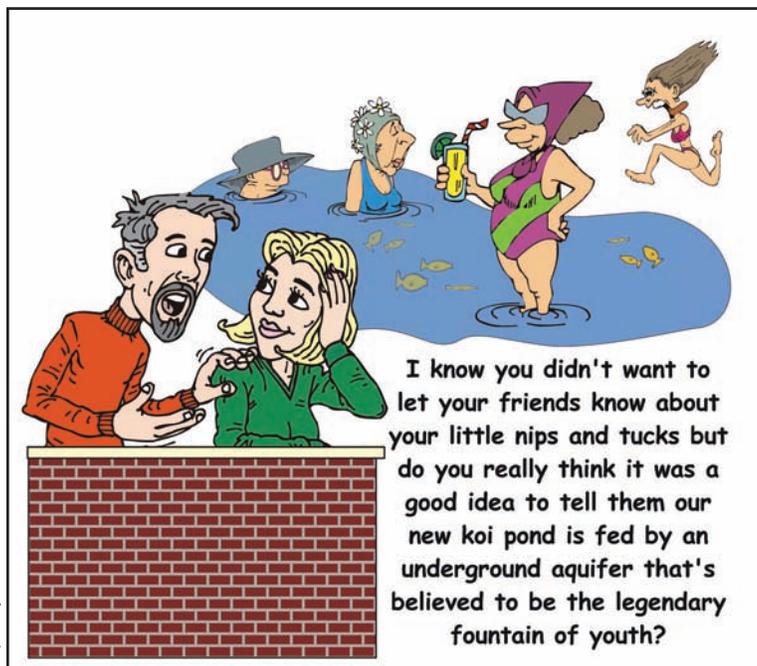

– Ingrid Bergman (1917-1982)

“Never interrupt someone doing what you said couldn’t be done.”

– Amelia Earhart

“I believe that we are here on the planet Earth to live, grow up and do what we can to make this world a better place for all people to enjoy freedom.”

– Rosa Parks
