The place of the father in the modern suburban family is a very small one, particularly if he plays golf.

– Bertrand Russell

You don't raise heroes, you raise sons. And if you treat them like sons, they'll turn out to be heroes, even if it's just in your own eyes.

– Walter Schirra, Sr.

To be as good as our fathers we must be better; imitation is not discipleship

– Wendell Phillips

I love deadlines. I like the whooshing sound they make as they fly by.

– Douglas Adams

Every stress leaves an indelible scar, and the organism pays for its survival after a stressful situation by becoming a little older.

– Hans Selye

I always say shopping is cheaper than a psychiatrist.

– Tammy Faye Bakker

Stress is an ignorant state. It believes that everything is an emergency. Nothing is that important.

– Natalie Goldberg

In this world without quiet corners, there can be no easy escapes from history, from hullabaloo, from terrible unquiet fuss.

– Salman Rushdie

He's too nervous to kill himself. He wears his seat belt in a drive-in movie.

– Neil Simon

For to be free is not merely to cast off one's chains, but to live in a way that respects and enhances the freedom of others.

– Nelson Mandela

Don't gain the world and lose your soul; wisdom is better than silver or gold.

– Bob Marley

Earnest resolution has often seemed to have about it almost a savor of omnipotence.

– Samuel Smiles

The reward of one duty is the power to fulfill another.

– George Eliot

In compiling a floral album take care to classify as a member of the daisy family that woman who can put the lid on household extravagance and keep it on.

– Frances L. Garside

A good way to rid one's self of a sense of discomfort is to do something. That uneasy, dissatisfied feeling is actual force vibrating out of order; it may be turned to practical account by giving proper expression to its creative character.

– William Morris

Look before or you'll find yourself behind.

– Bella Abzu

"I look forward to Friday. Then it's here - and I'm not ready for it!"
