People seem to enjoy things more when they know a lot of other people have been left out of the pleasure.
 – Russell Baker

I like pigs. Dogs look up to us. Cats look down on us. Pigs treat us as equals.
 – Winston Churchill

They say marriages are made in Heaven. But so is thunder and lightning.
 – Clint Eastwood

To make sure this stays in file 13!

It is an ironic habit of human beings that we run faster when we have lost our way.
 – Rollo May

I do not want people to be agreeable, as it saves me the trouble of liking them.
 – Jane Austen

People who are regarded as moral luminaries are those who forgo ordinary pleasures themselves and find compensation in interfering with the pleasures of others.
 – Bertrand Russell

Too often we enjoy the comfort of opinion without the discomfort of thought.
 – John F. Kennedy

You have two ends in life: one for sitting and one for thinking. Heads you win, tails you lose.
 – Anonymous

Always read something that will make you look good if you die in the middle of it.
 – P. J. O'Rourke

The years between 50 and 70 are the hardest. You are always being asked to do more, and you are not yet decrepit enough to turn them down.
 – T. S. Elliot

In the United States there is more space where nobody is than where anybody is. That is what makes America what it is.
 – Gertrude Stein

A people that values its privileges above its principles soon loses both.
 – Dwight D. Eisenhower

Fame is only good for one thing – they will cash your check in a small town.
 – Truman Capote

Middle age is the time when a man is always thinking that in a week or two he will feel as good as ever.
 – Don Marquis

The bait was bigger than this!

I believe that sometimes you have to look reality in the eye and deny it.
 – Garrison Keillor

True terror is to wake up one morning and discover that your high school class is running the country.
 – Kurt Vonnegut

The biggest seller is cookbooks and the second is dietbooks – how not to eat what you've just learned how to cook.
 – Andy Rooney

Men fear thought as they fear nothing else on earth, more than ruin, more even than death.
 – Bertrand Russell

Geniuses are like thunderstorms. They go against the wind, terrify people, cleanse the air.
 – Søren Kierkegaard
