

KRWA ANNUAL CONFERENCE & EXHIBITION

The KRWA Annual Conference is the largest water and wastewater conference in the Midwest. The Conference features three days packed with outstanding national, regional, state and local presenters.

The exhibition floor is second to none with 275 booths with vendors delighted to provide the latest in technology and the best in service. Watch for these

PRE-CONFERENCE SESSIONS, TUESDAY, MARCH 27.

National Incident Management System Training

GIS/GPS: Benefits, Applications

Collection System Evaluation & Rehabilitation

Leadership and Administrative Skills

Kan Cap Board/Council Training

Water Well Operation and Maintenance

Web Site Development

Alternative Dispute Resolution

Watch your mail by January 15 for a complete program; also keep an eye on KRWA's Web site for online registration, too.

It's the 40th annual!

March 27-29, 2007, CENTURY II – WICHITA

KRWA's Annual Conference – One look says it all!

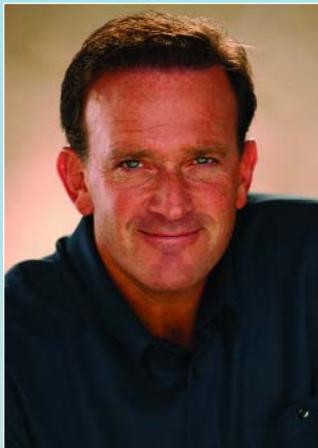

A smile is the dress code for conference attendees. Exhibitors, presenters, agencies and representatives from water and wastewater systems across Kansas and adjoining states, all find the attire an easy fit for every event on the agenda.

- Special Guest Speakers
- Annual Attorneys' Forum
- 56 Concurrent Sessions for Boards/Councils, Staff and Professionals
- Welcome BBQ & Social – More games than ever
- Awards Banquet & Presentations
- Water Pac Raffle
- Annual Meeting of Membership
- Certification Exams
- Great Door Prizes

The 2007 Conference kicks off with Keynote Speaker Scott Friedman, CSP

“The Best Way to Predict the Future is to Create It”

In these turbulent, uncertain, globally competitive times, innovation and resourcefulness are essential to survival. This renowned program is fast-paced, humorous, and full of useable, practical ideas on becoming a victor of change instead of a victim. Learn to create an environment that fosters creativity and team spirit. Learn to be driven by your purpose and values, and not circumstances and emotions. “The Best Way” will be a great kick-off for the 2007 Conference. You'll walk away feeling better about yourself, your responsibilities and your role in the future. Don't miss this grand "shot in the arm" loaded with the needed tools for creating the future you want! Wednesday morning, March 28.

The KRWA conference is unmatched in providing value for the cost! Great food and hospitality make this conference one of America's best! It's YOUR conference: YOU ARE KRWA!

